COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

To the County Convention and People of Merrimack County :

We present our second annual report of the financial affairs of Merrimack county for the year ending April 30, 1881, with the reports of the physician, chaplain, and superintendent of the county farm. There will also herewith be published the reports of the sheriff, jailer, county solicitor, county treasurer, and clerk of the supreme court.

There has been published quarterly a statement of all payments made by us. For further information in relation to the amount of payments from the treasury, you are respectfully referred to the treasurer's report, where they will be found under their several appropriate heads.

We desire to call your attention to the county farm and almshouse at North Boscawen, which are at present in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Milton B. Neal, as superintendent and matron. They entered upon their duties April 1, 1881, and thus far are giving general satisfaction. We have expended but little at the farm during the past year, except what was imperatively demanded. It will be recollected that in our last report we called your attention to the great expense necessarily incurred in heating the buildings. The weather during the winter of 1879-'80 was for the most part mild, there being but little severe weather ; yet it was hardly possible to make the inmates comfortable. We therefore deemed it necessary to make an effort to increase the heating power. After consulting with several competent parties and contractors, we decided to insert a small return-pipe within the large pipe that conducts the steam to the new building, to return the condensed steam in the form of water to the boiler. This, with the new radiators and piping, and the alterations made in the old piping in order to avail ourselves of the improvement, cost about $575. These improvements proved successful, and enabled us to make the inmates comfortable during the coldest weather of the past winter with less expenditure of fuel than was needed before. We think we shall soon be able to save enough in fuel to pay the expense, if we have not already done so. Notwithstanding this improvement, we are free to say, that, with the present heating apparatus, it will always be expensive heating the buildings, and especially so on account of their distance from the boilers. In our opinion it will cost fully $500 more per annum, in fuel and other expenses, to heat the buildings than if they had been built where the Convention of 1878 directed.

We also thought advisable to fit up a school-room with desks and seats, which cost $66. Miss Genella L. Fowler, of Pembroke, was employed to teach school twenty-five weeks, at an expense of $75 and board. Her school averaged about fifteen scholars, who made good advancement. She succeeded admirably in interesting her pupils; and at the close, we think her school would compare favorably with a majority of the district schools of the county.

We also thought it necessary to procure a survey and plan of the farm and a division of the fences, and also a plan showing the relative location of the buildings, with the location of the steam-pipes, the water-pipes, and the sewers. These plans are not yet entirely completed, but will soon be so, and have cost thus far, with the surveys, $92.19.

These extra charges, not really chargeable to the annual support of the paupers,—amounting in all to the sum of $808.19,—we deemed positively necessary, and we trust they will meet your approval.

We submit the following statement of the receipts and expenditures at the farm, showing the net cost of supporting the paupers there.

The present superintendent not having means to ascertain the number of weeks' board furnished paupers at the farm, by reason of the neglect of the former superintendent to keep a proper record of the admission and discharge of paupers, has not been able to make the statement required by law, giving the cost per week for board furnished.

We would also respectfully call your attention to our county debt, and would congratulate the tax-payers of the county on the fact that a new era has dawned upon them. We find in April, 1876, the treasurer reports the county debt as $76,836.00, in 1877 as $105,579.18, in 1878 as $110,952.25, May 1, 1879, as $120,685.76, and June 4, 1879, as $132,337.39. Thus we see that large as the debt was in 1876, it gradually and uninterruptedly, year by year, increased, till in June, 1879, it reached the enormous sum of $132,337.39, as reported by the treasurer, but in reality to more than $138,000, if to the amount given by the treasurer we add the amount of orders previously given and outstanding at that time ($3,358.33), the amount of bills outstanding that were due at that time and should have been paid previous to that date, and also a bond for $200, dated Jan. 1, 1868, not reported by any treasurer, certainly since 1875 (but which has since been presented and paid), and leave enough not included to balance all orders and bills outstanding at the present time. The treasurer, May 1, 1881, reports the county debt as $106,194.34, making a reduction of the county debt from June 4, 1879, to May 1, 1881, of $31,806.

By consulting the treasurer's report of May 1, 1880, it will be seen, that, besides paying the ordinary expenses of the county, there was expended during the year ending April 30, 1880, for new buildings, lightning-rods, steam chimney, new boiler, piping, radiators, and improvements in the boiler-house, $8,981.03; for indexing, $690.30; and for interest, $6,322.48,—amounting in all to the sum of $15,993.81;—and by referring to the treasurer's report of this date (May 1, 1881), we find, that, besides paying the ordinary county expenses, there has been expended during the last year, for extra expenses at the farm, $808.19; for indexing, $1,244.19; and for interest $6,867.39,—amounting to the sum of $8,919.77; and in both years amounting to the sum of $24,913.58.

We intended that there should be no bills or orders outstanding against the county at this time (May 1, 1881). but accidentally there were left unpaid three small bills, which, with two or three small orders outstanding, will amount to about $300.

This, added to the amount reported by the treasurer, will constitute the entire county debt, so far as has come to our knowledge.

We have, with the approval of Judge Stanley, made the recommendation to the next county convention that they raise a county tax for 1882 of $69,000, and the same sum for 1883. We believe if these sums are raised, which are the same amounts as the county taxes of 1880 and 1881, there will be sufficient funds to pay, during the next three years, the ordinary county expenses, complete the indexing (which is already well advanced), pay so much of the bonded debt as shall become due ($15,000), and pay all the debt outstanding on notes, besides leaving a liberal amount at the disposal of the commissioners with which to make the needed repairs and improvements in the county buildings and on the county farm.

We have made these recommendations, believing it to be good policy to extinguish the county debt as speedily as possible without increasing the rate of taxation, rather than to nourish and foster it, as appears to have been the policy in former years.

In our last annual report we referred to the pauper question as one of increasing interest to the people of the county, and we think this is no less true at the present time. To demonstrate this we propose to present a few facts. We have taken some pains for this purpose.

Annexed to this report will be found a table showing the number of persons receiving aid from the county in the several towns, and the amount paid for their support; also the number receiving aid as town paupers, and the amount paid for their support. This table is complete, with the exception of the towns of Salisbury and Webster, the selectmen of which did not choose to respond to our inquiries.

The county has supported, in whole or in part, paupers as follows :

At the county farm,	172
Insane asylum,	16
Reform school,	6
Orphans' home,	2
In the several towns,	1082
In other counties, &c.,	17
Total number aided,	1295

The several towns, exclusive of Salisbury and Webster, have supported, in whole or in part, 255 persons, being an average of about 10 persons per town in the twenty-five towns reported. If we allow the towns not reported the average number of ten persons per town, we shall have 275 persons aided by the several towns, making the number of persons aided, both town and county paupers, 1570.

The county paid for support of paupers off the farm $21,293.22; and the net cost of supporting paupers at the farm was $16,668.47, making the entire cost of county paupers $37,961.69.

The towns reported expended for support of town paupers $6,034.50, or an average of $241 per town. Allowing the two towns not reported to have spent an average amount with the other towns, and we shall have $6,516.50 spent for the support of town paupers. This would make the total amount spent by county and towns for support of both town and county paupers $44,478.19. Thus it will be seen that the county has rendered assistance to more than four fifths of the persons aided, and paid nearly six sevenths of the entire amount expended for support of paupers. It is not pretended that these calculations are entirely correct, but they are sufficiently so for our present purpose.

In view of these and other important considerations, we are impelled to again suggest the question, How long will the people support two classes of paupers?

The entire amount of the expenditures of the county for the last year, for all purposes, was $68,393.79. The amount expended for paupers was $36,985.35, and for all other purposes, $31,408.44. From this latter amount deduct $15,069.39, the amount of notes, bonds, and interest paid, and we have left $16,341.05 expended for all other purposes. Thus it will be seen that our pauper expenses are considerable more than double all other legitimate and ordinary county expenses,—that is, court expenses, jail expenses, salaries of county officers, and other miscellaneous bills.

When we entered upon our duties as commissioners, we found several persons supported by the county, who we believed had settlements in some town in the county or state. Believing that so long as the present law was in force each town should bear its own burdens, rather than throw them upon the county where they did not belong, we refused to pay for their support, and carried the matter to the court for decision. The court decided against us, deciding that a person once having been acknowledged to be a county charge, that decision forever after fixed the status of such person as a county pauper. We of course were obliged to submit to the decision, however unjust we might believe it to be. During the last year we accidentally came upon another case so manifestly unjust, and the evidence by which the person was admitted to be a county charge so weak and deficient, that we again decided not to pay for the support, and applied to the court for relief. We are now awaiting the result. Should the court again decide against us and sustain its former decision, we think commissioners should be more cautious in making their decisions, and should require evidence clear and decisive. We have no doubt the county are supporting several paupers at the present time unjustly, or who have settlements in some town. We refer to this matter at the present time for two purposes,—to call the attention of the people to the injustice and inequality of the present pauper system, and also to call the attention of commissioners to the importance of exercising more care in deciding pauper claims and fixing the status of county paupers.

Another matter, we think, deserves the attention of the legislature; and, if it would not be out of place for us to do so, we would make a suggestion in that direction. By the decision above referred to, the court say that any person residing in a town the requisite length of time, and having the requisite amount of property, must be taxed for the same four years in succession, and pay all taxes assessed against him, in order to gain a settlement. Section 4, chapter 81 of General Laws, says,—“Any person of the age of twenty-one years, having real estate of the value of one hundred and fifty dollars, or personal estate of the value of two hundred and fifty dollars, in the town where he dwells and has his home, and paying all taxes duly assessed on him and his estate for four years in succession, shall thereby gain a settlement in said town.” If this means that the property shall be taxable property, and that it shall be taxed, and all taxes duly assessed shall be paid, in order for the person to gain a settlement, we think the law should be amended so as to express that meaning clearly and unmistakably, instead of the contrary as it now does, in order that selectmen and commissioners may know how to decide questions of settlement under that statute.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

To the Commissioners of Merrimack County:

GENTLEMEN : In making this my second annual report, I have but little to add to the one I made one year ago.

The past year has been one of comparative health and prosperity to the Institution. The number of deaths has been small (only sixteen), considering the class from which the inmates are made up.

So far as I am able to judge, the Institution is well managed, and the wants of the unfortunates are well attended to.

Good attention has been paid at our religious services, and I trust the influence has been for good.

Kind treatment has been bestowed on me by all, for which I am grateful.

ALVAH BUZZELL.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

The auditors appointed by the Merrimack County delegation, at session of 1879, to examine and audit the accounts of the County Commissioners and the County Treasurer, have attended to their duty, and respectfully present their report.

Your auditors find the books of the commissioners well kept, with vouchers for all expenditures; and we can but repeat the opinion expressed in our report of last year, that the interests of Merrimack County have been attended to with great care, and the funds expended in a very judicious manner.

The treasurer's accounts are also correctly cast, with vouchers in proper form. The books are kept in good form, and show the receipts and expenditures in a way easily comprehended.

CHARLES F. HILDRETH,
JOHN B. FLANDERS,
County Auditors.

Concord, May 10, 1881.

G. S. LOCKE, Jailer.

REPORT OF THE SOLICITOR.

At the October term of the court, 1880, and at the April term, 1881, which terms comprise the past official year, 65 indictments were found by the grand juries, and for the following offences: Adultery, 3; assault upon officer, 6; assault, 4: breaking and entering, 6; false pretence, 2; cruelty to animals, 2; incest, 1; rape, 2; robbery, 1; malicious injury to real estate, 1; maintaining dam without fish-way, 2; larceny, 5; for selling liquor, 28.

These indictments have for the most part been disposed of, a few remaining upon the docket unavoidably, and much to my regret.

To make any extended report regarding the criminal business of the county seems to me needless, as it is all a matter of public record; and any person desiring information in detail can obtain it from the clerk of the court, to whom I, as heretofore, respectfully refer all citizens requiring more particular information.

H. W. GREENE, Solicitor.
